Free Workshop: Making Every Dollar Count

Are you struggling with making every dollar count? Are you using credit cards to cover the bills? Are you renting and not buying assets? Are you intimidated by bill collectors and banks? Learn how to make every dollar count – register for the “Making Every Dollar Count” program at the Resource Center for Women, scheduled for Tuesday, May 15th, 6-8 p.m. The workshop is free and open to the public (men and women). Registration is required. Call RCW at 727-586-1110.

The Making Every Dollar Count program is funded by Ameriprise Financial. The Resource Center for Women helps women in transition develop employment, personal and parenting skills that lead to self-sufficiency. RCW does this through life skills training, which includes programs in career development, personal guidance, money management, parenting classes and a computer lab.

RCW services are funded by the Juvenile Welfare Board of Pinellas County, Ameriprise Financial, Pinellas County Community Foundation, the Schoen Foundation, individual and corporate donors.

Call RCW at 727-586-1110 for information or visit www.resourcecenterforwomen.org.
